

Course: English First Peoples 10

Course Format: Online

Credits: 4

Description: EFP 10 is a combination of Literary Studies and Writing. This course meets the new Indigenous-Focused Graduation Requirement (effective 2023/24).

EFP Literary Studies 10 is designed for students who are interested in exploring First Peoples literature in a variety of contexts, genres, and media. This area of choice provides students with opportunities to explore personal and cultural identities, histories, stories, and connections to land/place. This course is grounded in the understanding of how texts are historically and culturally constructed. Students will work individually and collaboratively to broaden their understanding of themselves and the world.

EFP Writing 10 is designed for students who are interested in writing for a variety of purposes and contexts. This area of choice provides students with opportunities to become better writers through the exploration of personal and cultural identities, memories, stories, and connections to land/place. Within a supportive community, students will work individually and collaboratively to develop their writing skills and create coherent, purposeful, and engaging compositions. This course is grounded in the exploration and application of writing processes, inviting students to express themselves as they experiment with, reflect on, extend, and refine their writing.

This 4-credit course is broken down as follows:

Unit	Weight
Activation Assignment	5%
U1: Thinking	14%
U2: Communication	14%
U3: Novel Study	10%
Midterm	5%
U4: Personal & Cultural Identity	14%
U5: Personal & Social Responsibility	14%
U6: Past, Present, and Future	14%
Final Exam	10%

Prerequisites: English 9

Resources: Online readings and resources

